Process engineering, chemistry / pharmacy equipment

Apparatus and systems for liquid and thermal process engineering have been manufactured since 1968. Reactors and heating/cooling systems for the chemical and pharmaceutical industries.

The infrastructure of the company building on its own property is completely equipped for the production of device technology. All products are in-house developments with extensive know-how; the product portfolio is particularly interesting for investors. A newly developed process is available for commercialization to mass-produce disinfectants. This biocide is approved by the Federal Office of Public Health, Bern/Switzerland. The special thing about the active ingredient is its exceptional compatibility with humans and nature. The product is classified as non-toxic but is still extremely effective against bacteria and fungi. Tests have revealed further possible applications.

Both products are registered and approved by the Federal Office of Health in Bern. The recipe is identical and it is possible to create additional product names for other areas of application.

Further areas of application have been approved by the BAG, but no product names have yet been created:

1. Disinfectants for medical equipment and floors
2. Biocidal product for human living or industrial areas
3. Biocidal product for use in swimming pools
4. Biocidal product for air conditioning hygiene
5. Biocidal product for veterinary hygiene
6. Disinfectants for the food and feed sector
7. Drinking water disinfectant

The sales potential is in the 2-digit million range with exceptional returns.

Two very interesting products were recently developed for the leisure sector (winter sports and summer sports). The winter sports product will now be sold exclusively by an international sports equipment company in the sporting goods retailer. Another product (summer product) is under construction.

A global sales organization is also being sought for this.

100% of the company shares are up for sale and the succession is to be regulated. But participation is also very interesting for investors.
