Trade with special metals

I am looking for a business partner who intends to give input to a start-up company founded in . The company focuses on the trade with special metals. A cooperation could reach from a case-by-case support by contacts and know-how to a full partner with equal rights. Capital input is principally not excluded but is also not a must. This option could also be of interest for somebody who intends to do something on his own (also part-time) after leaving his position as an employee (e.g. due to retirement) and who plans to start something while still being bound somewhere else.
