Look for Corporate participation, firm participation Ingenieurbüro

We are looking for an active, strategic investor/partner to finance growth and build a new Internet platform for energy management.

In several years of development, a highly qualified team of engineers and computer scientists has created a completely new hardware and software solution around the topic of energy efficiency, which will open up previously unknown possibilities for all those interested in energy management.

Part of the project has already been implemented and programmed. We expect great business potential. A further 150,000 euros will be needed to complete the portal and launch it (planned launch 4.Q ). Discretion is assured. Investments in several margins are possible.

The investment may take the form of a silent participation or a public shareholding in the form of shares in the company through the establishment of a limited liability company.
