For Entry into Self-employment.

I envision a Business Model that is ideally sustainable and demonstrably profitable, has good Recognition value And "shines" through good Customer Satisfaction.

It should have no or only a small Inventory and would therefore have to include a very reliable Supplier that can be taken over.

The Training by the current Owner/Owner would, of course, be beneficial and desirable.

Pricing should not exceed € 10,000.00.

Note * * * * *

But maybe there are also people as young people as I do, who have been thinking about Self-employment For a long time, but don't dare to do so on their own.
