Why was this online store opened?

The Live Action Role Playing (LARP) area has always been a big and intense Hobby. This Industry is characterised by Customer Proximity and Attention to Detail. The Market situation is promising, as there are many small And only a few larger suppliers. In most Cases, the small Providers have no to hardly any business experience, the Websites are cobbled together without Capital and therefore have little serious or inviting effect. The larger Suppliers, on the other hand, have business know-how, but are very familiar with the Scene and usually do not rely on quality.
