Tourism

I am looking for a prospective customer who has an interest in a new foundation as a "Stiller owner" of a travel agency. I myself worked as a owner in another place for 10 years and sold the office there 3 years ago. Now I would like to return to a travel agency. This is supposed to be in my hometown (about 13,000 inhabitants). I am well known there as a tourist, and would like to open a new office in the village and work there as an office manager or employee. A beautiful space is currently available. Rent (about €800 a month). This would require new purchase of office furniture/EDV. The office could be run with me as an office manager and an apprentice. (Training certificate with me available). I have all the skills for a new foundation.
