Offer Corporate sales, firm sales, sales Regional advertising

The company operates a portal on the Internet and apps for mobile devices, which allows you to view current product and promotion offers from regional retailers. Users can use it to compile shopping lists, share them with friends and keep an eye on current product campaigns of individual stores in an easy way.

The platforms were launched on the market in November . Thousands of current product offerings from well-known discounters and chain stores can currently be viewed for all cities and regions of Germany at the same time. For the first time, customers will be able to use the advantages of the Internet, mobile apps and social media without technical know-how completely for their customer acquisition and loyalty in the region.
