For investors with a security claim for investment, there are very difficult times, including never before seen phenomena such as "minus interest rates." No one today knows how the capital markets, with all their system-immanent dangers, will develop.

However, we have been embarking on a successful path for decades to earn solid and clean money for ourselves and others, which at the same time offers a great way out of the ubiquitous "money triangle dilemma" of returns, tax aspects and high security. .

We are a currently well-established, internationally active sales agency for film and TV rights and are looking for additional capital to greatly accelerate our well-planned growth projects in the global program trading market.
