Trade in clothing and toys online and events

As a family business, we now operate a scene trading company with the two pillars of Gothic and the Middle Ages in the sixth year. In our range and in the external effect, the focus is primarily on children's products in the areas of textiles and toys. But adult items are also offered for assortment supplementation.

A brick-and-mortar retail trade was discontinued at the end of the year for capacity and location reasons.

We trade through three own online shops (Magento multishop), two shopping portals as well as at scene events (medieval markets and festivals).

For health and family reasons, we want to separate ourselves from some of the business. For capacity reasons, we have been shutting down the Gothic area, both online and above all offline. That's why it would be especially important for him to be filled with activity again. However, this is obviously not feasible at our location.
