Vegan Cafe

"Bavarian Cosiness meets urban style," either way you should describe the vegan Café later.

I have been living vegan myself for a good 11 Years and I have noticed that there is not really much Variety in display cases and on Plates in The Cafe/Bistro area. But only with Burgers, Cupcakes and Chilli sin Carne Do you now attract no one, especially in Big Cities. A more creative Concept has to come about. For that, I already have a lot in mind, the Business Plan is in the Foreground. Through my business Studies, I bring in the necessary commercial Knowledge. Vegan is on Trend, an End is not foreseeable and thus success is almost guaranteed if, like me with Passion and yet cool head, you are on the Record. Search Fellow Comrades-in-arms for It, either in the Form of business sparters (with in-depth Gastro-experience and vegan living) or Investor. So, let's see if anyone feels addressed here at all.
