Organic emulsion paint

As one of the very few manufacturers, we have succeeded in developing a dispersion paint without the usual admixture of acrylic resin or styrene acrylates. Nevertheless, in order to be able to develop a character of dispersion, in recent years our focus has been on the formulation of a suitable plant-based polymer, so that the advantages in the form of a dispersion can continue to be used.

- contains no acrylates (petroleum-based and styrene acrylates)
- contains no solvents
- contains no plasticizers
- contains no preservatives

purity

- 100% pure natural raw materials
- controlled and declared raw materials and raw material extraction
- natural and renewable resources
- very good eco-cycle balance (grade to greave)
