Switching and compensation plant builder seeks successor stake

For a switch gear and compensation plant builder, a company succession is pending for reasons of age.

The debt-free and bank-independent company is very well established in the market and has two distribution channels, with no active marketing.

In addition to low-voltage switchgear and similar products, they are experts in the field of reactive power compensation systems and equip electronics companies with housings for their devices.

The plants are planned (ePlan), configured and, if necessary, assembled. As a service, the maintenance of the plants and network analyses are offered.

Customers are mainly electrical system manufacturers, TGA, project planners or industrial companies.

With >20 well-trained and motivated employees, the company generates a turnover of >4 million € with good earnings.
