Card

I am looking, to put it simply, someone who can invest capital and also has something to help with advice and deeds.

The small amount of capital is needed for the time of market launch. The product is a card game, which is available in two performances, once in a completely neutral variant with "monsters", the second variant is created due to the rules of the game as for a "CO2" variant and thus exactly in the market area of the target group.

Even the test series with neutral cards has aroused a high playing appetite and a great interest in unknown testers.

Now I hope I can also arouse your interest in a truly outstanding product.
