Medical

Medical engineering company in Southern Germany is looking for succession for reasons of age.

We develop, produce and distribute complementary medicine systems for human and veterinary medicine and are well established in the market. Our products are sold in the clinical, medical, naturopathic, rehab and home sectors as well as in the veterinary sector. In addition to introduced common products, we also produce new developments with excellent unique selling points and very high market potential. The distribution takes place via a network of free dealers in Germany and a neighbouring country. On request, the managing partner is willing to advise the company for a further 1 to 2 years.
