Online Shopping Portal

I am looking for a business partner or in particular a programmer who wants to work with me on a project. The project is in the field of shopping and promises revenue potential thanks to partner program integration.

I offer the commercial, conceptual component and would like, as I said, a partner who would like to take over the programming tasks. These would be incurred in the area of website or forum integration.

I would be happy to share more details on request.
