Profitable niche in the Consumer Electronics, Small Series Manufacturing & Kits for Cult Computer Accessories business

Founded in by a trained electronics technician as a lover's project in the field of classic computers (e.g. Commodore). The unique niche products and a loyal community have ensured a continuous increase in sales ever since. In-house PCB design with contract manufacturing in Asia, WEEE membership, customer service without "ifs and buts" and no compromises on quality ensure satisfied customers and recommendations.

Distribution takes place exclusively via a well-known online platform, therefore location-independent and with the best future prospects. Small warehouse for parts, finished goods, shipping & packaging material and a hobby electronics workplace for production is completely sufficient.

Contact via management consultancy, NDA and proof of capital required.
