Electrical engineering

We are a drawing office for electrical engineering with a focus on elaboration of 2D and 3D drawings in the field of building technology, fire alarm technology, security technology and network technology in the automotive industry for more than 15 years. For us, quality, reliability, personal commitment and effective goal orientation are part of good project management in addition to humane, appreciative and honest communication. To expand our company, we are looking for more drawing offices for electrical engineering. We are interested in purchase offers as well as investments.
