The program includes planing and workbenches for:

- Professional and do-it-yourself
- vocational schools, secondary schools, high schools, elementary schools (workroom equipment) and kindergartens.

Sales and earnings have grown in recent years and could be significantly increased again with the introduction of an online store for end customers.

Market situation:

- limited competition, only a few competitors
- increasing demand, in the private and educational sector (shortage of craftsmen)
- Customers are dealers, object furnishers, catalog suppliers, cities, counties and training centers (vocational schools, chambers of crafts) as well as schools directly

This means: broad customer structure, no dependence on individual customers

It is an established, protected brand with over 100 years of history.

The company cannot remain at its current location due to the planned conversion of the buildings. However, the machinery and stocks of semi-finished and finished products should be taken over.

Support/consulting can be provided during the start-up phase if desired.
