Look for Corporate co-operation, firm cooperation Cybersecurity

We are constantly filtering the market and developing new business concepts that are solutions to problems. In this context, we are looking for cooperation partners in the areas of management, IT software developer, graphic design and sales for the establishment of an independent limited liability company.

The focus of the company will be on the topic of cyber security.

There are more and more corporate values in digital systems. At the same time, the pace of technological change in companies is also opening up new opportunities for cybercriminals. The number of hacker attacks is reaching new record highs every year. The increasing professionalism of criminals is also a reason for companies to rethink their previous security measures.

*Facts, figures, data:

61% - of German companies consider cybersecurity to play an important role.

52% - of German companies are increasing their budget for cybersecurity.
