We offer you the unique opportunity to acquire an established company with an international presence and specialization in individual extraction and dedusting systems. Due to a lack of successors, the company is looking for a new owner who wants to continue the success story.

The company, based in Hesse, has specialised in the development and manufacture of high-quality extraction and dedusting systems for many years. Thanks to innovative solutions and goal-oriented commitment, we have succeeded in gaining a foothold in this niche as a leading supplier. The product range includes tailor-made systems that are characterized by high quality and reliability. The team is committed, qualified and fully committed to the company's values. The company has solid financial figures with stable sales and healthy profits. The financial basis for an excellent basis for growth and expansion.
