Photovoltaics

We install photovoltaic systems in Switzerland. Now we want to produce solar fences and offer them in retail. Solar fences are the balcony power plants of the future. Our fences are aesthetic, durable and very affordable. The plan is to sell in Germany via DIY stores, specialist companies and, of course, online portals. In this segment, there are so far practically only the metal rod elements, or very very expensive suppliers. With our product, we have about the same sales price as normal garden fences. Payback period approx. 5 years for the customer, then over 20 years of additional income for feed-in or cost savings for self-consumption. There is still almost no offer here. We are therefore still looking for an investor, preferably with contacts to DIY stores, but is not a must.
