Look for Corporate follow-up, firm follow-up, follow-up Mechanical engineering, metal construction

Our goal is to lead medium-sized mechanical engineering companies like yours into a successful future. We understand the typical challenges of the industry such as a shortage of skilled workers, marketing and digitalization/AI and have made it our mission to actively solve these issues in the context of corporate succession. This allows these companies to continue to concentrate on their technical strengths and survive in the competition.

What qualifies us for this task?

My two co-partners and I have a technical background as engineers at Daimler and Porsche. In addition, we have successfully built up our own company over the past three years: our real estate trading company. This company now employs 18 people, achieved sales of around EUR 4.5 million in 2023 and generated an EBIT margin of approx.
