Manufacturing and distribution

For reasons of age, I am selling my very profitable and even more expandable existence / business.

Manufacture and distribution of industry-specific niche products that have been successfully established on the market for more than 20 years almost unchanged. The operation is location-independent.

Currently, the business is run by me, a mini-jobber (520 €, assembly work) and an office worker. Average annual profit: €100,000 and can be increased without any problems, as many expenses are actually not necessary for the business. The business can be further expanded, as there is no webshop yet and no advertising (neither online nor print) is carried out. It currently supplies long-standing existing customers in Germany and other EU countries. The products are widely known as a brand among the usual industry dealers
