Metal processing

Experienced Manager and Authorized Signatory with over 15 years of international leadership experience in the high-tech sectors of Metrology, Mechanical Engineering, and Laser Technology.

I am seeking a technology or manufacturing company (metal processing, mechanical engineering, plant/system engineering) for acquisition or investment/participation.

The goal is to lead the company onto a sustainable growth path through strategic sales realignment, internationalization, and process optimization. Preferably, I am looking for a B2B company with a high level of technical expertise and significant scaling potential.

Target Companies:

Specialist for Precision Metal Parts: A contract manufacturer that produces parts, with potential for automation and internationalization of sales.

Smaller Mechanical Engineering Company: A manufacturer of specialized machinery or system components that can be scaled by an experienced sales and technology leader.

Technical Distributor/System Integrator: A company that distributes specialized industrial products and offers additional services (installation, maintenance).
