Plastic Processing industry

An established, profitable family-owned business (SME) in the plastics processing industry (injection molding) with its own toolmaking department is seeking an entrepreneurially minded leader as part of a succession plan. After a period of familiarization, a structured handover to a successor with the opportunity to initially take on a minority stake is planned. The company, located in the metropolitan region, supplies industrial customers in over 40 countries, has its own machinery, and a stable customer base. The company has 60 employees and generates a turnover of around €5 million.
