Offer Geschäftsidee, Geschäftsmodell Employer Branding Award

What is being sold is a successful and profitable business model in the field of employer branding that is already successful in the start-up phase: a regional award in which companies are qualified through a standardised evaluation process and, if successful, secure the seal of quality and marketing services. Revenue is generated through award fees and optional add-on products.

The model is scalable, digital, and offers recurring revenue with comparatively little effort.

The business model is ideal as an investment object with execution by personnel or for service providers who want to enter the market for employer branding and corporate awards or expand their business activities with a scalable product.

We will be happy to send you the exposé of this sales offer on request.
