For women only:

I (f) am self-employed and in the process of implementing different business concepts and one of them is the support of women who want to implement a business idea but don't dare, need support etc.:

The idea is to support women with business ideas, e.g. by acting as a tenant of a property/shop/shop and helping you to implement your idea - you could implement your idea (for example as a hairdresser, photographer, social media expert, etc.) and I act as an employer. We will be happy to discuss everything else in person.

What is very important to me is that what you want to implement must be your passion.

Means:

If you feel addressed because you have always wanted to implement x (whatever), have training or the necessary know-how, then write to me.
