Bridal Fashions

For sale is a bridal fashion store that has been successfully run for several years in a very good location in a major German city. The company combines brick-and-mortar retail with an established online shop and a strong online presence.

The store has very good visibility on Google, an active social media community and excellent customer reviews.

Of particular note are exclusive distribution rights for selected designers, which severely limits direct competition in the regional market for certain brands.

The sales area is approx. 160 m². The stock includes about 250-350 wedding dresses. In addition, there is an established online shop with an annual turnover of around €96,000.

The company has been in existence since and has built up a loyal clientele during this time. The combination of brick-and-mortar sales, online retail and a strong digital presence offers further growth potential.
