AI-powered scouting co-pilot

We develop talent AI – an AI-powered scouting co-pilot that delivers tailored player shortlists to professional football clubs on a weekly basis. No generic rankings, but recommendations tailored to the playing philosophy, squad planning and evaluation criteria of the respective club.

The product is aimed at training clubs in the DACH region – clubs whose business model is based on the early identification and development of young talents. A demo version is live, the concept has been validated with clubs from Switzerland and Austria, and the next step is a paid 6-week pilot.
