Building cleaning Building management

We offer services around the building. Our offer is aimed at their founders, new entrepreneurs, as well as existing companies.

Different models for existing founders and for existing businesses (building cleaning) are available to you.

Detailed assistance and comprehensive instructions for their work are provided by the start-up training, practical, various specialist training, as well as by the support of the system advisors, also on site.

During a first discussion at the system headquarters, they learn all about which model is right for them, what a partnership looks like for them, what services do they receive from us, what the conditions look like for them and how a service-operated company works. We are happy to answer them all further questions about a partnership with us.
